

If I Told You

1) If I told you
that I could guarantee you a job which would keep you in style for the next 20 to 40 years, but after that I can guarantee that your children will have no future, because the work you will be doing is going to destroy everything,

would you take the job?

2) Why, then,
did you vote for the man who only told you that first part—
about guaranteeing you
a job?
