

What I Would Like

I would like to create a rock band
and call it “the children of necessity.”

I would like to start a decorative painting business
and call it “vrai faux.”

I would like to bioengineer a cross between poison ivy and stinkweed
and call it “just want to be left alone.”

I would like to smile after the next blizzard
and call it “peace be with you.”

I would like to write a poem
and have you call it “the revolution.”

November 2011